

Voice Talent/Actor/Instructor/Producer/Director

With over a dozen years in broadcasting, 5 years in animation/freelance voicing and over 6 years training in acting both on and off camera, Debbie Munro is able to offer a unique perspective into the Voice-Over industry.

Trained by some of the top in the industry, such as voice of Porky Pig/Tweety, Bob Bergen www.bobbergen.com, 11 time Emmy Award winner, author and #1 VO Coach in the U.S. James Alburger & his partner Penny Abshire www.voiceacting.com, Top film coach/director Tom Logan www.tomlogan.com and many more. Debbie is able to incorporate her incredible training, her broadcasting degree, her years in theatre and on camera acting, her years of experience as a Casting agent and more into doing what she loves best, spreading her passion for this incredible industry.

Debbie has worked incredibly hard to get where she is today. Six years ago she was looking for direction to improve her skills and although found some direction, getting honest feedback and constructive critique proved to be a challenge. Debbie put her skills together and created her company, Chanti Productions/MIC & ME Workshop Series. Creating a variety of training materials, workshops and more, she made it her mission to spread the word about the freelance voice over market. To help people get the “REAL DEAL” about the industries and help develop their skills. She couldn’t help it, she truly loves what she does and talking about it just comes easy. Turning into more than she could imagine, Chanti Studios, offering both audio and some visual needs, has succeeded and proven to be different in each of its undertakings, allowing continued success. Debbie now runs two offices in Canada, one in Vancouver and the original studio in Edmonton.

Working internationally as a full-time voice performer, instructor and speaker at many events across North America such as Voice International, Voice Acting San Diego, VO Cruise with Bob Bergen, Animethon events in various locations and now her writings published in the number one Voice Over book out there, The Art Of Voice Acting©, Debbie has a long list of credits including her newest as voice of the new Global series “True Pulp Murder”, voice of ‘Mai’ in the animated series DragonBall/DragonBall GT © (YTV), Signature voice of roving reporter, ‘Karla Karumba’ in the international animation series Benjamin Blumchen ©, Voice of ‘Buddy’ for the Buddy and Max Series©, United States Coast Guard, Subway, Nissan, Canada Post, Alberta Dairy, Booster Juice, BMW, Michelin and many more, in-store voice for Canadian Tire, broadcast voice for several stations including WBTV 38, KVOs, CORUS, A-Channel, Shaw, Global, SONIC FM and more.

Debbie is a very dedicated instructor and talent. She consistently finds that many people want to get into this industry but don’t know how. Creating Voices Workshop Series was created with that in mind. She’s proud to share her insights, techniques and secrets with you. She works very hard to create courses that shed an honest look into the world of voice acting allowing you to work at your own pace and know if this is the industry for you. She consistently strives to be the best instructor she can be and continuously educates herself to make sure these courses are current to today's needs. They say her passion is contagious, let her spread the disease!
